SUMMARIES OF THE GAMES

THE season's opener at home with Bethany displayed two evenly matched elevens battling to a goose-egg stalemate with only three minutes remaining. The deadlock was broken when the Bison left end intercepted a Titan flat zone pass and raced 30 yards for the lone score of the game.

The following Saturday in a second-half rejuvenation, climaxed by a 58-yard touchdown drive in the third period, the Titans came from behind to tie the California State Teachers 6-6 on the Vulcan gridiron. The Teachers scored early in the third quarter when they recovered a Westminster fumble on the 25-yard line and marched to a touchdown. After receiving the California kick-off, Coach Washabaugh's eleven shifted into high gear and drove straight down the field on runs by Wright and Pfau and passes from Shoup to Miller. In rapid fire order the Blue and White piled up ten first-and-tens, finally pushing Pfau over the last white marker on a skirting end run from the 2-yard line. Miller and Mamula, veteran end and tackle, stood out for Westminster.

After holding Slippery Rock scoreless for the first half, the Titans lost to the Rockets, 6-0. The Boulder backfield plowed through the second 30-minute period with a 70-yard touchdown march. Although the Blue and White defense tightened, the Rocket fullback scored on his fourth try from the one-foot line. The Rocket forward wall lived up to its name, displaying stonewall performance against Titan attacks. Laurels of the day went to Reufle and Youkers on defense while Ridl paced the Titan offensive.

Before a crowd of 4000 Alumni and students the Penguin eleven from Youngstown College shattered an otherwise perfect homecoming day with a 20-0 victory over an injury-riddled Westminster grid team. Despite the lop-sided defeat the Blue and White played their best offensive game of the year. At the spearhead of the Titan defense that made the Penguins fight hard for every yard they gained, was co-captain Frank Brettholle.

After playing a scoreless-tie game with Thiel College before a large Dad's Day crowd the Blue and White gridgers traveled up to Edinboro State Teachers to win their first game of the season, 26-6. The Red Raiders started the scoring with a surprise touchdown pass from the 12-yard line. Featuring a powerful offensive that thrust back at the Red Raiders, in quick succession the Titans shoved three touchdowns across with Laposki, Ridl, and Edwards doing the leather toting. Edinboro retaliated by pushing within the Titan one yard line before Harry Shoup stole the ball and ran 99 yards for the fourth Titan touchdown.

The Titans had to be content with their third tie of the season when Grove City College came from behind to knot the score at 6-6 on the Grovers' home field. Westminster then closed the 1939 season at Beaver Falls by holding the Geneva College eleven down to six points on a muddy field. The Covenanters scored within the first four minutes of the game on a 65-yard drive. For the rest of the game, the Titans held the Genevans at bay with superb goal-line stands and brilliant punting. Every yard that the Covies gained after the first few minutes was lost in punt exchanges or by fumbles. Harry Shoup's zooming kicks repeatedly pulled the Titans out of danger, while Laposki's excellent work at safety-man halted several touchdown marches. The game was the last for seniors and co-captains, Throop, Wright, and Brettholle.

Fifteen football men received letters; four of them freshmen, playing their first year of collegiate ball. Those receiving letters were Earl Wright, Frank Brettholle, Henry Throop, Melvin Miller, Dale Youkers, Julius Laposki, Harry Shoup, Daniel Mamula, William Reuffle, Harry DePaulis, Fred Brinkley, Charles Ridl, James Wilson and Arthur Edwards, Senior Manager Arthur Dunn was also awarded a letter. Melvin Miller and Dale Youkers were selected as alternates on the 1938 Geneva College all-opponent team.

Wasik scores on rebound in the Westminster-Slippery Rock Game.

A NEW "Towering Titan" team instituted a streamlined style of basketball at Westminster this year under the tutorship of Coach Grover Washabaugh and his assistant Dave Boyd. Fears of seeing the last of great Titan hardwood quintets were dispelled when the Blue and White basketballers lived up to tradition and scrambled through a tough twenty-one game schedule to become one of the outstanding teams of the East; boasting of two wins over Carnegie Tech and a victory over Pitt for the second year. Despite the return of only two veterans, co-captains Mel Miller and Tom Patton, a new crop of hustling freshmen managed to fill the roomy shoes of the graduated Demo, Backus and Krivosh with a faster and more spectacular offensive.

SUMMARY OF THE GAMES

WESTMINSTER opened the season with a victory over Geneva, 41-33, proving that a system of highly offensive play would work. After smoothing over the rough spots, Coach Washabaugh sent his charges against the "Terrible Plaid" from Carnegie Tech. Superior work at the charity line, converting 19 out of 22 fouls, upset all the sportswriter's predictions and gave Westminster a 43-41 win. Following the Tech game, the Towering Titans in quick succession bowled over Slippery Rock, Grove City, and for the second time Geneva; all by wide margins.

Loyal Titan rooters were definitely convinced on January 14th that Coach Washabaugh did a good job of blending plebes Jim Wilson, Joe Spak and Stan Wasik into the regular line-up when they repeated last year's surprise victory over Pitt, 45-37. Paced by Co-captain Miller's 19 points and Joe Hetra's fiery backcourt playing the Westminster court-men completely outplayed the Panthers. Unfortunately Stan Wasik, promising freshman center, was lost for the remainder of the season, when he received a slight skull fracture in colliding with Joe Spak during the game. Disheartened by the loss of one of their star defense men, the Titans dropped games on successive nights to W & J, 43-40, and Waynesburg, 71-56, on their annual southern trip.

The Blue and White then began to pull out of the rut with a substantial victory over Youngstown, 41-38, and a thrilling win over the Eastern invader, Brooklyn College. The Titans really stepped back into stride when they downed one of the classiest teams to show here all season, 57-49. On the following Saturday night, February 7th, the Tartans of Carnegie Tech invaded New Wilmington only to be clipped down, 49-48. Even though Tech's tall center, Rube Stark, dumped in 20 points, he could not match the smooth Titan team-work.

The eastern trip proved to be disastrous as Millersville State Teachers, champs of the State Teachers' college, threw in a last minute basket to down the Titans, 57-55. Mel Miller led the Titan attack with 21 points. West Chester was defeated 46-31 before moving on to the University of Scranton where the Blue and White cagers tasted their second defeat in three days, 57-50.

The reserves, led by Buzz Ridl and Lee Fox showed their ability as Washabaugh substituted in defeating Bethany and Youngstown. The Towering Titans slumped to stumble over Slippery Rock, giving to the Rockets their first victory over a Westminster quintet. Showing a reversal of form, the Titans toppled a strong John Carrol team at Cleveland, 51-35.

Playing host to the powerful Waynesburg Yellow Jackets on March 4th to decide the district championship, the Blue and White were defeated in a closely contested game, 46-45. The Jackets had an eleven point lead at the half and Father Time gave the game to Waynesburg by 1 point, although the Westminster team had overcome the disadvantage by spirited playing. Joe Hetra lead the Titan scoring attack with spectacular "air-baskets" from mid-court. Co-Captain Tom Patton led his team-mates in a second decisive victory over John Carrol, 60-38. Bethany's defeat in the final game saw the Titans bring to a close a highly successful season and maintaining a record that compares with great Titan basketball teams of the past.

Action under the bankboard in the Westminster-Youngstown Basketball Game.

A survey of the season brought out valid proof of Westminster's superiority on the district courts. Only two teams defeated the Titans by more than three points. Five of the six season's losses were decided within the last minute of play. The Titans surpassed past scoring records by averaging 51 points per game. Mel Miller, star forward, piled up a total of 256 points in 21 games; an average of 12.2 points per game. Joe Hetra was second with 167 points, and Jim Wilson followed closely with 166 points. In the last 12 years Westminster has only lost 5 games on he home floor.

Letters were awarded to Melvin Miller, Tom Patton, Jim Wilson, Joe Spak, Charles Ridl, Joe Hetra, and Frank Brettholle, mgr.

AFTER a lapse of ten years, Cross-country along with Swimming was reinstated on the collegiate sports program this year. The first squad, composed of nine freshmen and one senior, was ably coached by student Wallace Heiges.

Under the new policy of expanding collegiate sports sponsored by Grover Washabaugh, head of the athletic department, many more students were given an opportunity to participate in varsity athletics. Mr. Washabaugh scheduled district schools on the program this year, planning to card larger schools after building up the team.

Paced by James Edwards, a consistent winner, the team improved throughout the season. Considering the inexperience, the squad met with considerable success for a first year team.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

An extensive program of women's sports was supervised this year by Miss Craig, director of Women's Athletics, and her assistant Miss Lorimer.

MISS CRAIG

JUST as football and cross-country open the fall sports program for Westminster men, soccer and field hockey inaugurated the women's sport schedule for the school year, 38-39. These two activities predominately held sway among the coeds until Homecoming Day when the Women's All Star hockey team defeated the Alumnae, 2 1. In the background archery contests also attracted a host of girls to participate. Riding classes, re-established on the campus after an absence of several years, pleasantly occupied the fall afternoons of many women.

Out of the many sports offered to Westminster coeds during the Winter months, basketball, volleyball, and badminton aroused so much interest that several intra-mural leagues were started. The shut-in winter period also kept the Mermaids, girls' swimming club, busy preparing for their annual spring water pageant. With the first tidings of spring, late in March, the "U.S.S. Swing," mermaid pageant, was produced before a large crowd of students and faculty. Spring arrived early enough this year to permit informal mushball games and tennis matches to be organized among the girls.

APPROXIMATELY ninety per cent of the male students voluntarily enrolled in the various intra-mural sports or participated in intercollegiate competition this year. This broad program, instituted by Dave Boyd, eliminated varsity men from their respective leagues and permitted the average student to compete against men of his own caliber. A general summation shows that all three fraternities finished the year with approximately the same rating, all sports considered.

Pan-Hellenic Council, made up of two representatives from each sorority on the campus, held its annual dance in the fall. This year the dance was a "Snow-Ball Dance." The entire rushing program, which was considerably altered this year, was planned by the group. Before the rushing program was begun, Pan-Hellenic Council gave a tea for all freshman women.

J. Clements, R. Wallace, Lauterbach, E. Wright

The Inter-Fraternity Council, composed of the president and one other member from each fraternity, plans and carries out the rushing rules for the fraternities. This organization has done much toward maintaining friendly relations among the fraternities on the campus. An inter-fraternity pledge dinner at College Hall was sponsored by Inter-Fraternity Council this year.

First Row: Dr. Orr, Madill, Jameson, MacFarland.
Second Row: Wyllie, Hopkins, Brownlee, Kennedy, Bash.

Karux, the club honoring pre-ministerial students on the campus, was organized to help its members to grow spiritually through meeting together, and to give them a pre-view of the ministry as a profession. Monthly meetings, with discussions and speakers, and held by the organization, of which Dr. Orr is the sponsor.

Scroll, the honorary English fraternity, was organized this year for the purpose of developing an interest in creative writing and good literature. Membership is limited to fifteen and the requirements for entrance are a two average in all English subjects and at least twelve hours of English. The organization began the publication of a magazine this year, written by the students about campus activities and interests. Dr. Mary E. Purdy is the faculty advisor.

First Row: Stevenson, Dr. Purdy, Kagler, Purdy, Stone.

Delta Nabla, local honorary mathematics fraternity, held monthly meetings throughout the school year. Speeches and discussions were held at each meeting. In the spring, the annual initiation and banquet was held by the fraternity, of which Dr. Black is the sponsor. A book was presented to the library by the organization, and another book was given to the Freshman outstanding in mathematics.

First Row: Sturgeon, Dunn, R. Meyer.
Second Row: Connor, Huck, F. Ewalt, Whitehead.

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, contains more members this year than ever before in the history of the chapter. With the aid of the News Bureau, Pi Delta Epsilon aims to create a greater interest in photography on the campus, and to promote the formation of a camera club. Several chapel and chapter speakers were sponsored by the organization, including George Seibel, and Lloyd S. Jones of the Youngstown Vindicator.

Sphinx, honorary fraternity for senior men, sponsored the annual Dad's Day in the early part of the year and the Sphinx Dance which was held in the fall. The Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Sorority Sing was in charge of Sphinx, and the organization sponsored the annual Tap Day in the spring.

First Row: Hunt, Martin, Sloan, Greer, Stonerod.
Second Row: Hughes, Rogers, Mason, Cartwright, Chrisner, Blackadore, Koelliker.

Senate, the women's governing body, gave a tea dance in the early part of the year to help the freshmen get acquainted. The annual Senate Dance was held in the fall, and Lantern Night, honoring all the senior women, was sponsored by Senate in the spring.

First Row: Harris, Gealy, Middleton, Ludwig.
Second Row: Whitman, McCaslin, Riblet, Brownscombe.

Neptune, men's swimming club, was organized this year for the purpose of stimulating interest in a swimming team. Definite requirements, including senior life-saving, are necessary for membership. Several life-saving demonstrations were given during the year. Mr. Biberich and Mr. Boyd are the faculty advisors.

Masquers, the honorary dramatics organization, held its annual "Black and White" Formal in November, and gave a tea-dance later in the fall. The members saw the stage production "Tobacco Road" in New Castle, and sponsored "By Bread Alone," an original play by William Long, a Masquer. The group received Elissa Landi when she spoke in the lecture series, and sponsored a Magician Show presented by Mr. Biberich, a former Masquer, with special acts by students. In the spring, Masquers held its annual banquet for its initiates.

Orpheus, honorary music organization for men, held their annual stag party in the early part of the school year, to acquaint Freshmen men with the club. Thursday morning chapel programs have been sponsored by Orpheus for over a year, and this year the organization took part in a radio program, carol singing on the South Terrace, and concerts in several cities.

Block W, athletic organization honoring men from all sports, held monthly meetings during the school term. The group sponsored its annual mid-winter dance, and this year selected Louise Lane as Miss Block W.

W.A.A., Women's Athletic Association, sponsored its annual breakfast hikes, one for Freshman women in the fall and another for seniors in the spring. The W.A.A. convention, with delegates from neighboring colleges, met at Westminster in November. Candy was sold by W.A.A. at the football games, the organization held several Sports Nights for college women during the year, and presented a Fashion Show for all-college in the spring. The annual W.A.A. banquet was given in May.

The News Bureau is the official information bureau for the college. It sends out stories of the activities of individual students and of activities on the campus to the various daily and weekly newspapers. Another duty of the News Bureau is to take pictures for publicity and all the Argo pictures except the individual portraits. Mr. Biggs is in charge of this department.

The Freshman Handbook is the publication of the students representing the Christian Associations of the College. It acquaints the incoming Freshman class with the customs and traditions of Westminster, with the rules of the college, and the administration, with the buildings and activities.

Y.M.C.A. advocates good fellowship among the men of Westminster both socially and religiously. It holds meetings every Wednesday evening at which time problems relating to everyday life are discussed. The Y.M.C.A. assists in furnishing entertainment for Freshman week and promotes the Week of Prayer.

First Row: Jamison, F. Ewalt, Ogborne, Hopkins.
Second Row: W. Shaffer, Kennedy, G. Clements, D. Rowland, Hallman.

Y.W.C.A. is the Young Women's Christian Association, whose aim is to encourage the development of the three-fold life. The Y.W.C.A. meets every Wednesday evening and discusses everyday problems. It cooperates with the Y.M.C.A. in sponsoring activities and socials as well as joining with them in important services throughout the year.

First Row: Elliot, Thompson, Andrews, Christy, Challener, Patterson
Second Row: J. Reed, Bigger, McGeorge, King, Austin, Chambers, Barchfeld, Maxwell, Hopkins.

Y.P.C.U. is one of the most active religious groups on the campus, whose aim is to promote social as well as religious feelings between men and women of the college. The Y.P.C.U. holds meetings, which are carried on by the students, each Sabbath evening before church. Socials and parties are held at different times throughout the year.

First Row: Barchfeld, J. Reed, Jamison, F. Ewalt, R. Maxwell
Second Row: R. Christy, Galbreath, G. Clements, Hopkins, Patterson

Debate - a group of both men and women students who take part in intercollegiate tournaments and in the spring of each year, tours several states meeting college and university competition. Each year an interclass debate is held for competition among the various classes.

*First Row: Kennedy, C. Smiley, Lutton.

Student Council, honorary governing organization composed of students elected from each class, helps to solve any problems that may come up between students and faculty. This year Student Council worked to secure a longer Spring vacation. The ruling will become effective next year. Another measure passed by Student Council was a limitation, based on a point system, of the number of offices which a single student can hold. This was to secure a co-ordination of extra-curricular activities.

By Bread Alone

Everyman

The absence of Professor A. T. Cordray made a temporary change in the production of the Little Theatre this year. The first play of the season, "By Bread Alone," was written and directed by student William Long. "Hedda Gabbler," the second production, another play of the psychological nature, was directed by Mr. Cloetingh of Penn State. "Hay Fever," the last major production of the year, was a comedy directed by Mr. Newsbaum also of Penn State. In May, eight one-act plays were directed and presented by students in the Speech department. Scenery and costuming were done by students. Originality and experiement were stressed this year.

PROF. GLENN TAYLOR

PAUL HORN

PROFESSOR Glenn Taylor successfully supervised the production of Little Theater plays this year in the absence of Professor Cordray. Paul Horn ably handled the stage management for the major productions. He was assisted by Robert Limburg and Edward Rosenberger.

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE BAND

The College Band, under the direction of Mr. Cameron, gives splendid support to the football and basketball teams at home games and abroad. It also gives a concert in the spring and plays for Commencement. Membership is open to all students able to play a musical instrument and is conducted by several student directors throughout the year.

MALE QUARTET

The Male Quartet, under the direction of Clayton Taylor, has given numerous performances at college affairs and made public appearances in many surrounding towns. It has also taken part in the radio broadcasts from the college studio. The Quartet is composed of John Davis, Robert Himes, Kenneth Poulton, and Henry Hudson, accompanied by Clayton Taylor.

Women's Glee Club, directed by Miss Ada Peabody, is open to all women of the college. Officers, who are elected in the fall, take care of the attendance, music, and other business of the organization. Weekly practices are held during the year in preparation for the Christmas and Spring concerts.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Ensemble is composed of the women music majors. The organization, under the leadership of Miss Ada Peabody, gave a spring concert this year.

WOMEN'S ENSEMBLE

The Westminster Singers, under the direction of Mr. Davis, is made up of the music majors of the Conservatory of Music. The group sings for the Baccalaureate service in the spring.

WESTMINSTER SINGERS

The Orpheus Choir, a specially selected group of men and women singers, is under the student direction of Calvin Jolly. The choir made a trip to Warren in the fall, had complete charge of special morning chapels once a week and made a spring tour of surrounding towns.

ORPHEUS CHOIR

BLUE AND WHITE STUDIO

WALLACE BIGGS
Radio Director

The idea for a radio station for broadcasting from the college started last summer when the New Castle studio was constructed. The plan materialized and the first program from the college was heard over the air on Sunday, October 23, 1938. For the first four months programs were broadcast only three days a week, and later increased to six days a week, including Sundays.

The original studio contained only one microphone, no control room, and an upright piano. There are now two mikes, a control room operated by student engineers, and a grand piano. The varied programs consist of dramatics, original plays written by students, quizzes, faculty talks, music, Views of the Nation's Colleges program, Youth Challenge Programs on Sundays, and debates. Part of the programs are arranged by Mr. Biggs, and part by the students of the radio class. A permanent radio staff is being arranged.
